

101 Best Outdoor Towns: Unspoiled Places to Visit, Live Play (101 Best...Series)

Sarah Tuff, Greg Melville
ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#14075463 in Books 2007-05-04 2007-05-04Format: Bargain PricePDF # 1 .97 x 6.04 x 9.021, #File Name: B002WTCB3G512 pages | File size: 64.Mb

Sarah Tuff, Greg Melville : 101 Best Outdoor Towns: Unspoiled Places to Visit, Live Play (101 Best...Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 101 Best Outdoor Towns: Unspoiled Places to Visit, Live Play (101 Best...Series):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Good book for providing information on outdoor activities in that ...By Ed BeckerGood book for providing information on outdoor activities in that are located around areas although that would not be enough of a reason in itself to make me want to move to an area. But a well researched book.0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Been there, done thatBy janeI feel most of the places it explores are on the cusp of being over-explored, as if the author was a day late. This would be a wonderful book for people who don't get out often or who only travel as exotically as a Disney cruise.0 of 5 people found the following review helpful. BummerBy consumer of productsBoring! I was looking for a travel guide for cool remote outdoor towns and this is not it. I've never heard of any of these towns and non of them look interesting enough to visit. Not even in color.

A unique guide for the millions of American urban dwellers and suburbanites seeking quick getaways to small, breathtaking locales where there are pulse-quickenning activities but a slower pace of life. Grab your gear; pack your bags and beat the developers to 101 of the greatest places left for living, visiting and playing outdoor towns where you can still eat breakfast at a local diner; play all day in a gorgeous, natural setting; find microbrews and comfort food; and flop yourself into bed at a family-run lodge. Tuff and Melville look far and wide to identify these places that have fresh vitality without having been overrun with fourth-home buyers and resort developments. These are places where you'll want to visit and just maybe stay on. 101 Best Outdoor Towns includes information about the towns, their history and all the things there are to do as well as lodging and dining information. You'll even find each town's "stay" factor for just how livable and affordable the place might be for the long-term. 1 map, 101 black white photographs, index.

About the Author Greg Melville and Sarah Tuff have more than 20 combined years writing experience in the magazine and publishing industry. Both are former editors of Men's Journal and have written numerous annual round-ups for top adventure for National Geographic Adventure, Men's Journal, and Best Life, among others. Sarah lives in Burlington, VT, and Greg lives in South Burlington, VT.