Ireland is challenging in that roads under a single classification- National (N), Regional (R), and Local (L)- can be vastly different in width, and condition. While no map predicts this since lines and colors are representative of class- every road designated actually exists! Do not use a GPS without a map of this detail and AA maps are the best. "Unnamed Road" is a favorite of GPS over here- the AA map saved us many times from going down a single track goat path by staying on a larger road a few kilometers further on. We covered over 2000 Km on this trip- and haven't gotten on to tiny roads unintentionally once. Unlike other maps- the updated AA maps are actually accurate to the detail needed. Only one issue: the size of the print was a challenge at times... while having a smaller book to carry, did some serious squinting to read some of the print. Definitely wasn't something one can do on the fly. One unrelated piece of advice: rent the smallest car that will carry your stuff. Life is just a lot easier if you are planning to sight see on back roads... and all the good stuff is on back roads where coaches cannot go. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This handy atlas is presented in an A5 format, ensuring that it can be stored easily while the spiral binding provides flat folding pages for quick journey planning. The mapping has been fully updated from Ireland's Official Mapping Agencies, OSI and OSNI. Contained within the mapping are all the newly opened motorways and dual carriageways, tourist sites, and AA-recommended caravan and camping sites.
