A beautifully designed book By Avid Reader A beautifully designed book, enabling the reader to locate the buildings, businesses and streets of Harvard Square while following the timeline of its history from 1950-2009, the publication date of the book. Being that my own personal timeline roughly correlates with the timeline of the book, I can attest to its more-than-adequate coverage of much of Harvard Square's story. Mo Lotman did an amazing job, and I can't recommend his book highly enough. Now all we need is for him to create a new book filling in the history from the 17th century to 1950. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. What do Barack Obama, Samuel Beckett, Fidel Castro, Joan Baez, Conan O'Brien, Natalie Portman, and Dwight D. Eisenhower have in common? Their footsteps have all crossed paths in Harvard Square. This well-trod patch of Cambridge turf at the corner of the United States most renowned university has long been a crossroads where poetry, retailing, politics, design, performance, and every other cultural endeavor intersect.
