Dan Aadland : Treading Lightly With Pack Animals: A Guide to Low-Impact Travel in the Backcountry

before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Treading Lightly With Pack Animals: A Guide to Low-Impact Travel in the Backcountry:

A richly illustrated how-to guide for taking pack animals into backcountry areas without adversely affecting the environment, this book includes chapters on establishing a low-impact camp, introducing children to backcountry travel, where to go and how to get there--plus listings of agencies and organizations.
