The author gives the reader a peek into what to expect when traveling with children, tools, tips and suggestions that will help make your/our upcoming trip a success. She also gives tips on ways to save money. If you are thinking of going on a trip to Europe with your children or grandchildren I'd recommend reading this book. She gives the reader the confidence that you can and should take a family vacation to Europe. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great book--couldn't put it downBy CustomerExcellent book. really interesting story of their trip and lots of helpful information about travelling and also about the countries. Well Written. I have read it twice, once on my Kindle and once in paperback.

This paperback book has 167 black-and-white photos!For families with toddlers to teens. Two Months in Europe: Avec des Enfants documents the 57-day trip I took with my husband and our two young children. From Great Britain to France, then to Italy and back to France, the details of our trip are chronicled in journal form and supplemented with pictures, general information about the locations we visited, web links, and additional resource suggestions. The goal? To travel to our ultimate destinations (with our kids!); to get out of the U.S. and our comfort zone; and to explore the history, culture, and landscapes of Western Europe.Even the most careful traveler can't anticipate everything. The challenges of tired feet, hungry stomachs, and the occasional emergency (little ones who needed to "pee NOW") demand levelheadedness, patience, and improvisation. Yes, things didn't always work out as planned, but it was all part of the adventure and definitely worth it in the end. Read along and discover how we did it.Locations visited: * England: Winchcombe, Cheltenham, Warwick, Swindon, Longleat, Avebury, Bath, Cotswolds, Hidcote Gardens, Ludgershall Ruins, Minster Lovell Hall, Blenheim Palace, London * Wales: Dan-yr-Ogof Caves and Carreg Cennen* France: Paris, Versailles, Chambord, Cheverny, Chenonceaux, Saint-Malo, Le Mele-sur-Sarthe, Alenon, Le Mmorial de Caen, Pointe du Hoc, Arromanches, Chartres, Chamonix, Villefranche-sur-Mer, ze, Bdoin, Mt.
