Richard Day, Garry Hall, William Hopper : Vincennes: 1930-1960 (IN) (Images of America) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Vincennes: 1930-1960 (IN) (Images of America):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. A Nostalgic Trip Home By Suzanne K. Bendall Well done. Excellent coverage. What a host of memories this book evoked!! I grew up in Vincennes during these years. When I told my son about the book, he immediately ordered one for him and one for his sister. I have gone through the book and written notes for them regarding each photo that had special meaning for me. I was disappointed that Smith Hardware (now Beard's) was not mentioned or pictured--even though it was across the street from Clean Towel Service, page 12. I worked in Smith's office summers during my high school years. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Vincennes 1930-1960 By Garry L. Hall Illustration quality is very high. The photos and captions bring back a lot of good memories for me about growing up in Vincennes. If your hometown is Vincennes Indiana then this book is a must. You'll find you can't put it down. Each page with great old photos will have you thinking and talking about those simpler times. Remember when.....

As the first and oldest town in Indiana, Vincennes is rich in history. It had an important role in the American Revolution and later was the capital of the Indiana Territory. This book focuses on a more recent time, the years between 1930 and 1960 the period of the Great Depression, the New Deal, World War II, and the post-war years. Fascinating views of stores, clubs, theaters, churches, factories, groceries, and gas stations, many of which are gone or greatly changed, are captured in Vincennes: 1930-1960. Some events in Vincennes remain the same, such as the Fourth of July fireworks display at the Clark Memorial and the high-school homecoming parade, and these images are displayed within these pages as well.

About the Author All three of the authors are life-long residents of Vincennes. Richard Day is cultural administrator of Vincennes State Historic Sites. Garry Hall is sales manager for Vincennes Ford and an avid collector of vintage photographs. William Hopper is a retired elementary school principal and an antique dealer.
