From Phaidon Press : Wallpaper* City Guide Beirut before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Wallpaper* City Guide Beirut:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Armchair TravelerBy Dr. SmokerI will disclose this: I have never been to Beirut. I do, however, own a copy of this guide. This guide gave me a glimpse into a beautiful war torn city. The guide gave me a glimpse into what was once a sophisticated modern city with a real vision. It nows lays in a slumber, partly crumbled by wars, still dynamic by those who dare to venture, and anxious and uncertain about its future. The soul of the city is reflected through its architecture.I can not say whether or not the recommendations are any good, but I can say that the hotels and boutiques did look sumptuous. This is a good book to add to a collection. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. It's small and concise, good overview but no depth. By Dorothy It's small and concise, good overview but no depth. Good for a weekend guide if you don't want historical facts

Part of 'Wallpaper City Guide' series that suggests where to stay, eat, and drink, this guide to Beirut features various areas and landmark buildings in an 'architour', as well as looking at the design centres and the popular shops to buy items unique to the Lebanese capital.

'The answer to every short-breaker's dream. The jewel-coloured guides look beautiful and are exquisitely designed.' The Times 'Gorgeous photography, sharp graphics, and design-savvy, waffle-free text, written by city insiders rather than bearded backpackers.' The Independent 'Glamorous, global and affordable.' Telegraph magazine 'Packed with insider knowledge and eye-catching photography.' Vogue 'Ultra-glam, uber-chic' The Observer 'Attractive and well-researched.' USA Today 'Ultra-stylish.' Time Magazine 'Sophisticated but simple.' The New York Times 'Small, stylish and beautifully illustrated, the Wallpaper* City Guides make everything else look old hat. ... The photographs and maps are superb.' The Sydney Magazine About the Author Wallpaper* City Guides are compiled by the magazine's travel experts, both by in-house editors, and correspondents who actually live in the highlighted cities, providing up-to-the-minute information.
