This is the second wall mural map we've purchasedBy Robin K BarkerWe love this map so much we bought a second one to put up in our new home and designed a space especially for it.The current map is in a high-use room so the kids see and use it frequently.When we first bought the map we purchased it from a knock-off company because it was cheaper. When it came, the coloring was inaccurate compared to the online pic -- in reality the neutral tones were more pink than neutral. We sent it back and ate the cost of return shipping. Buy the original from National Geographic, is my point.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. a wonderful muralBy jmwI absolutely LOVE this mural and so does everyone who sees it in our home. We refer to it frequently and it is VERY attractive on the wall in our TV/rec room. This is a VERY detailed map and the colors are perfect for our decor. I highly recommend this for anyone who likes to have a quick look at an atlas that is easier to read than a globe. It was much easier to hang than I originally thought--before I attempted to put it on the wall it appeared like it might be difficult to get the letters to line up but once I put the glue on it and put it on the wall it was very easy. Due to the size of the sheets I would recommend having two people to hang it--makes it much easier to hold the paper up while you are lining up the letters.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I loved the mapBy Kristy RobichaudI loved the map, it is beautiful, very detailed and honestly amazing to look at. It's not downfall is that the putting it up was a bit difficult if you weren't experienced with this. The instructions lacked how to deal with the over lap and it is hard I get it exact even I you do once the bubbles are smoothed out it stretched a little or shifted. But all in all an amazing mural
