8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. classy little world and U.S. map By Santoku, Mr. This laminated map unfolds to a 2-page world map on one side and a 2-page U.S. map on the other side. Detail is decent for the world map considering its size - a lot of countries and states show more than one city, and the largest countries each have about two dozen cities shown. It's visually nice, and ocean features and depth shading was a surprising bonus. I was less impressed with the U.S. map; it's large and spacious yet it doesn't show any highways or roads, shows few geographic features, and only a modest number of cites. Considering its size, more cities could've easily been fit in. But it's still a decent overview of the U.S. This small map is no substitute for a full-size map or an atlas, but it's a great basic reference that you can pull out at moment's notice. The countries and states are shaded in different soft colors making them easy to differentiate one from another. It also includes a few geographic and demographic facts like a list of most populous countries, longest rivers in the world, etc. Other single-page notebook maps have so little detail they are of limited usefulness. The laminated Streetwise World Map is an alternative to this one but it's a folding map rather than notebook-style. Unlike this one, it shows world time zones, but it doesn't include a U.S. state map. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Foley I love this handy chart to keep by my side when watching news or other programs discussing geograhly. Very nicely done and handy to be folded into 8 X 12 size. The other one I had from the same company became dog-eared after years of use. This was a replacement.

Our handy notebook-sized laminated map has been updated and expanded in the new World U.S. Map QuickStudy guide. Along with the world map on one side and the U.S. map on the other, check out the additional page of interesting world and U.S.
